Prin. Faith, tell me now in earneſt, how came Falſtaffes Sword ſo hackt?

Peto. Why, he hackt it with his Dagger, and ſaid he would ſweare truth out of England, but he would make you beleeve it was done in ſight, and perſwaded us to doe the like.

Car. Yea, and to tickle our noſes with ſpeare-graſſe, to make them bleede, and then to beſlubber our garments with it, and ſweare it was the blood of true men. I did that I did not this ſeven yeares before, I bluſh to heare his monſtrous devices.

Prin. O villaine, thou ſtoleſt a cup of Sacke eighteene yeares ago, and wert taken with the manner, and ever ſince thou haſt bluſht extempore, thou hadſt fire and ſword on thy ſide, and yet thou ranſt away: what inſtinct hadſt thou for it?

Bar. My Lord, doe you ſee theſe meteors? doe you behold theſe exhalations?

Poin. I doe.

Bar. What thinke you they portend?

Prin. Hot Livers, and cold purſes.

Bar. Choler, my Lord, if rightly taken,

Enter Falſtaffe.

Prin. No, if rightly taken, Halter. Heere comes leane Iacke, here comes bare-bones. How now ſweete creature of Bombaſt, how long is't agoe, Iacke, ſince thou ſaweſt thine owne Knee?

Falſ. My owne Knee? when I was about thy yeeres (Hall) I was not an Eagles tallon in the waſte: I could have crept into any Aldermans thumbe-ring: a plague of ſighing and griefe, it blowes a man up like a bladder. Ther's villanous news abroad, here was Sir Iohn Braby from your father: you muſt goe to the Court in the morning. The ſame mad fellow of the North Percy; and he of Wales, that gave Amamon the Baſtinado, and made Lucifer cuckold, and ſwore the divell his true liegeman upon the Croſſe of a Welſh-hook; what a plague call you him?

Poy. O Glendower!

Fal. Owen Glendower, the ſame, and his ſonne in law Mortimer, and old Northumberland, and the ſprightly Scot of Scottes, Dowglas, that runs a horſebacke up a hill perpendicular:

Prin. He that rides at high ſpeede, and with a piſtoll kills a Sparrow flying.

Falſ.

Falſ. You have hit it.

Prin. So did he never the Sparrow.

Falſ. Well, that raſcall hath good mettall in h runne.

Prin. Why; what a raſcall art thou then, to pr running?

Falſ. A horſe-backe (yee Cuckoe) but on foo budge a foote.

Prin. Yes Iacke, upon inſtinct.

Falſ. I grant ye, upon inſtinct: well, he is ther Mordake, and a thouſand blue Caps more. Word away by night, thy fathers beard is turn'd white w you may buy Land now as cheape as ſtinking Mack Prin. Then 'tis like, if there come a hot Sunne, a buffeting hold, we ſhall buy mayden-heads as th nayles, by the hundreds.

Fal. By the Maſſe, Lad, thou ſaiſt true, it is like w good trading that way. But tell me, Hall, Art not t afeard? thou being Heire apparent, could the wor out three ſuch enemies againe, as that fiend Dowgl Percy, and that divell Glendower? Art thou not horr doth not thy blood thrill at it?

Prin. Not a whit yfaith: I lacke ſome of thy inſt

Falſ. Well, thou wilt be horribly chidde to mor thou commeſt to thy Father: if thou doe love me

Prin. Do thou ſtand for my Father, and examine particulars of my life.

Falſ. Shall I? content: this Chaire ſhall be m Dagger my Scepter, and this Cuſhin my Crowne.

Prin. Thy State is taken for a joynd ſtoole, thy g ter for a leaden Dagger, and thy precious rich Crow tifull bald Crowne.

Falſ. Well, and the fire of Grace be not quite
